Scott Grant, School Board Liaison, mentioned that NH Department of Environmental Service has come up with some new rules which are a state mandate concerning oil tanks at schools. The oil tanks/lines were inspected by an engineer and ours don't meet code. It is going to cost between 15-22 thousand to bring them into compliance. Chairman Chandler asked if we could get a copy of the letter. Grant will see that we get a copy. Grant has been able to put them off until April.

Grant thanked the highway department for the nice job they have done plowing the school yard and inquired if before the school and town meetings if they could widen out the yard. Chairman Chandler replied that he will ask the highway department to do that.

Grant also mentioned that there is a school board meeting tomorrow night that will be discussing having a preschool for ages 2-4 at the Bartlett school. Grant is in favor of education but not preschool.
